What's Included

Every Joe Lamb Jr. & Associates vacation home comes equipped with standard kitchen essentials including cookware, dishes, silverware, glassware, and basic utensils. Guests should plan to bring paper products such as toilet tissue and paper towels, along with garbage bags, hand soap, detergents, and cleaning supplies. Commonly forgotten items include spices, aluminum foil, dish towels, sponges, and dish cloths, but these can easily be picked up at nearby stores. While kitchens have the basics, you may wish to pack favorite specialty items like a crock pot or chef's knife. For beach days, skip the hassle of packing bulky gear - local providers rent out beach chairs, umbrellas, coolers, baby equipment, and sports equipment to make your stay even easier.

Property Locations

OCEANFRONT

Stay steps from the sand in an oceanfront rental, where nothing stands between you and the Atlantic. Found in Duck, Southern Shores, Kitty Hawk, Kill Devil Hills, and Nags Head, these homes offer unobstructed views, direct beach access, and the sound of waves at your door.

SEMI-OCEANFRONT

Enjoy ocean views and easy beach access without the oceanfront price. Located one row back or along Beach Road in Duck, Southern Shores, Kitty Hawk, Kill Devil Hills, Nags Head, and South Nags Head, these homes often have just a short walk - or no homes at all - between you and the water.

OCEANSIDE

Oceanside rentals put you close to the beach while offering more privacy and value. Found in Duck, Southern Shores, Kitty Hawk, Kill Devil Hills, and Nags Head, these homes sit just a short stroll from the sand - many with partial ocean views and family-friendly neighborhoods.

GOLF COURSE

Nestled in Kitty Hawk's Sea Scape Golf Course, these homes combine resort-style relaxation with easy access to the green. Perfect for golfers or anyone who enjoys a peaceful setting with wide, open views.

SOUNDSIDE

Set on the quieter side of the islands, soundside rentals offer peaceful neighborhoods, easy access to the water, and stunning Outer Banks sunsets. These homes are ideal for a slower pace while still being close to both sound and ocean activities.

SOUNDFRONT

Right on the water's edge, soundfront rentals boast private docks or steps to the sound - perfect for kayaking, paddleboarding, or watching breathtaking sunsets. These homes offer a serene retreat with no properties between you and the water.

CANAL FRONT

Found in Colington Harbour and Old Nags Head Cove, canalfront rentals are a boater's dream. With direct access to the sound, peaceful water views, and community amenities, these homes deliver a laid-back coastal lifestyle.

Unit Types

Dive into your own private paradise.

Find your perfect stay on the Outer Banks with our wide range of vacation rentals – from ocean-view condos and modern townhomes to spacious homes and duplexes designed for gathering. Whether you're planning a cozy couple's getaway or a memorable family vacation, each of our properties offers comfort, style, and that unmistakable OBX charm. With options to fit every size, style, and budget, you can relax knowing you've found the perfect place to call home during your time by the sea.

Duck & Southern Shores Homes

Duck is one of the Outer Banks' most charming and walkable towns, beloved for its relaxed vibe and scenic waterfront. Its nearly mile-long soundside boardwalk winds past shops, restaurants, and stunning water views, while the calm sound waters are perfect for paddleboarding and kayaking. Oceanfront beaches are wide and sandy, ideal for sunbathing, swimming, or family fun. With boutique shopping, fine dining, seasonal festivals, and a lively summer concert series, Duck offers vacationers the perfect blend of small-town charm, outdoor adventure, and coastal culture.

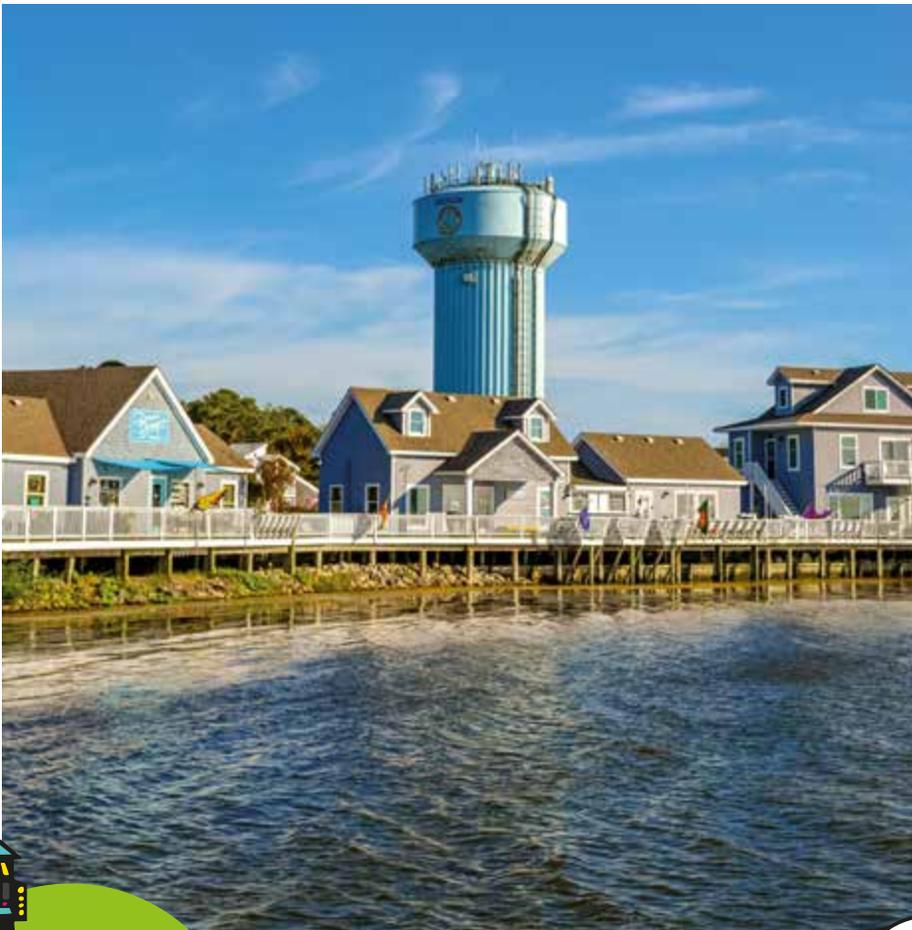

Southern Shores is a hidden gem of the Outer Banks, offering a sense of privacy and serenity that sets it apart from busier beach towns. Tucked between Duck and Kitty Hawk, it's known for its quiet, tree-lined neighborhoods, uncrowded beaches, and winding bike paths shaded by maritime forests. Vacationers love the peaceful atmosphere - perfect for morning walks, paddling soundside waters, or simply listening to the ocean from a porch swing - while still being just minutes from the dining, shopping, and attractions of nearby towns. Blending tranquility with accessibility, Southern Shores is an ideal retreat for those who want a true escape without giving up convenience.

Kitty Hawk & Kill Devil Hills Homes

Kitty Hawk known as part of the birthplace of flight. Offering vacationers a rare blend of history and natural beauty you won't find anywhere else. Just minutes from where the Wright Brothers first took off, visitors can explore aviation history while enjoying wide, sandy beaches perfect for surfing, swimming, and shell hunting. Beyond the shore, the Kitty Hawk Woods Coastal Reserve sets this town apart with its 1,800 acres of maritime forest, where you can hike shaded trails, paddle winding canals, and spot wildlife native to the Outer Banks. Add in fresh local seafood, charming shops, and a central location that makes day trips easy, and Kitty Hawk stands out as a vacation spot that captures both the spirit of the Outer Banks and its one-of-a-kind coastal charm.

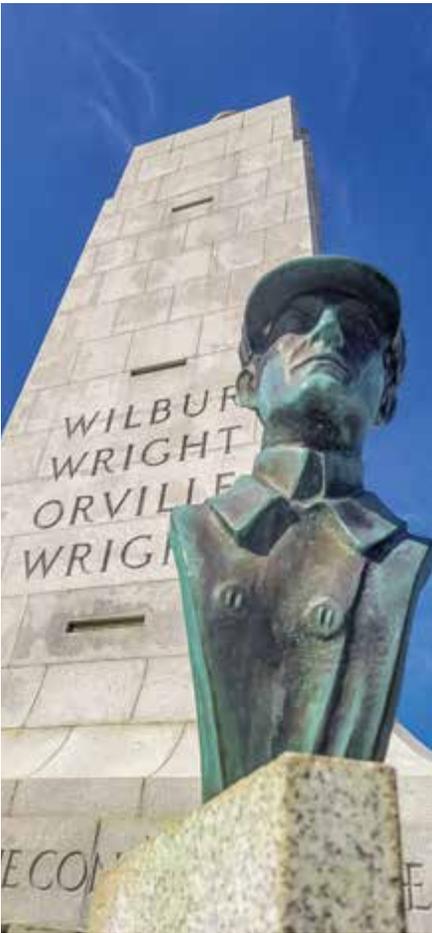

Kill Devil Hills is the vibrant heart of the Outer Banks, best known as the site of the Wright Brothers' first powered flight at the Wright Brothers National Memorial - a must-see for history lovers. But the town's appeal goes far beyond its aviation roots. Vacationers can enjoy wide, sandy beaches perfect for surfing, swimming, and fishing, then explore a lively food and nightlife scene with everything from local breweries to family-friendly restaurants. Centrally located, Kill Devil Hills makes it easy to explore neighboring towns, yet its mix of history, activity, and laid-back beach-town charm makes it a standout destination all on its own.

Nags Head & South Nags Head Homes

Nags Head is one of the Outer Banks' most iconic destinations, where adventure, history, and classic beach living come together. Its crown jewel is Jockey's Ridge State Park, home to the tallest natural sand dunes on the East Coast, a one-of-a-kind spot for hang gliding, kite flying, and breathtaking sunsets. Vacationers can cast a line at Jennette's Pier, stroll the lively boardwalks, or sample fresh local seafood at everything from casual beach shacks to fine dining restaurants. With wide sandy beaches, a mix of outdoor adventure, and a long tradition of welcoming visitors, Nags Head offers a truly unique vacation experience that captures the spirit of the Outer Banks.

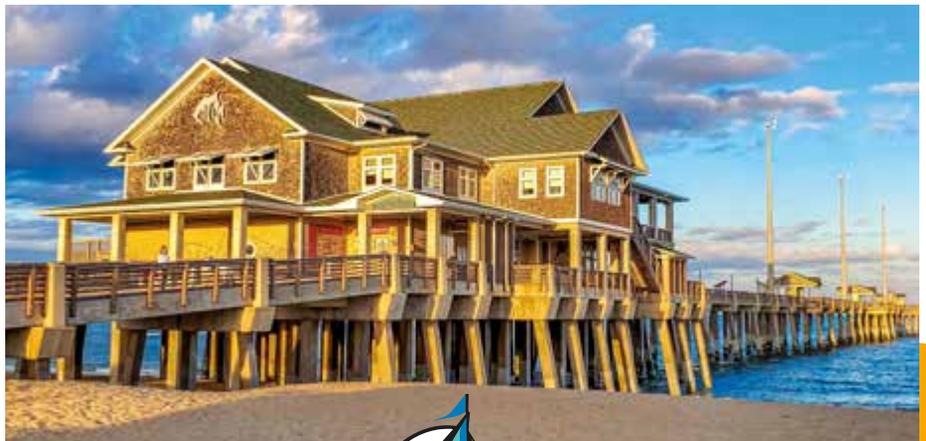

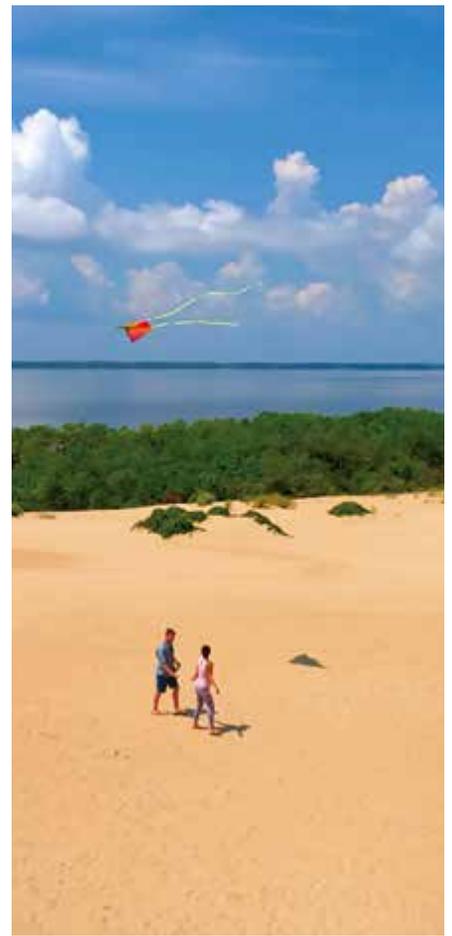

South Nags Head is the Outer Banks' hidden gem, known for its wide, unspoiled beaches and laid-back, natural beauty. Stretching from Milepost 16.5 to Oregon Inlet, this quiet retreat has minimal commercial development, making it perfect for those who crave seclusion and space to unwind. Spend your days fishing, beachcombing, or biking along the scenic multi-use path, then explore nearby treasures like the Bodie Island Lighthouse and Oregon Inlet. Loved by families and nature enthusiasts alike, South Nags Head shines as the OBX destination for peace, relaxation, and endless coastal charm.

A Love Story by the Sea

Joe and Ann Lamb

Some stories begin with a single place, a single choice, a single glance. For Joe and Ann Lamb, their story began in Elizabeth City, North Carolina, where the two first met as students. What started as a young romance soon blossomed into a lifelong partnership—one that would shape not only their family but the Outer Banks community for generations to come.

After college, the couple married and began building a life together. Joe worked in Ann's father's real estate office in Elizabeth City, learning the trade and imagining what might be possible if he and Ann took their own leap of faith. Their hearts, however, were already being pulled toward the Outer Banks—a place both had visited as children, a place whose wild beauty and timeless charm left an unforgettable mark.

In 1968, guided by equal parts determination and love for each other, Joe and Ann opened the doors of Joe Lamb, Jr. & Associates in Nags Head. The office was modest, the work demanding, but together they built their business one client, one rental, one relationship at a time. Their first motto, "the personal touch," wasn't just a slogan—it was the way they lived and worked side by side, treating every family who came through their doors as an extension of their own.

Today, Joe proudly holds the distinction of being the longest active licensed real estate broker in the state of North Carolina—a testament to his enduring dedication, integrity, and lifelong commitment to his craft.

Over the decades, their love story grew right alongside the company. They raised three children by the beach, instilling in them the same values of integrity, hospitality, and service that had guided their own journey. Those children later joined the family business, followed by grandchildren, and now even great-grandchildren are beginning to embrace beach life. Today, four generations of Lambs are part of the legacy Joe and Ann began nearly six decades ago.

Yet the Lambs' impact reaches beyond real estate. Joe's years of public service—from the Dare County Board of Commissioners to local foundations—and Ann's leadership as a founding member of the Outer Banks Women's Club reflect a shared devotion to their community. Together, they also established scholarships and supported countless local initiatives, ensuring that the Outer Banks that shaped their story continues to nurture future generations.

For Joe and Ann, success was never just about business—it was about family, community, and the love that bound it all together. Their marriage, their company, and their service stand as a testament to what can be built when two people choose to walk through life hand in hand.

Since 1968, Joe and Ann's story has continued to inspire. It is a love story written in the sands of the Outer Banks, carried forward by their family, and treasured by the community they've helped shape.

Advance Reservations

Plan Ahead with Advance Reservations

At Joe Lamb Jr. & Associates, advance reservations give guests the opportunity to secure their Outer Banks vacation before rates for the upcoming year are released. Whether you're returning to your favorite home or planning a new stay well in advance, our team makes the process simple and seamless. Keep in mind that advance reservations are tentative until property owners approve their participation and finalize weekly rates, amenities, and available weeks. Returning guests have first priority to reserve the same home and week for the following year, but calendars and details may change. Once rates are confirmed, we'll notify you by email, and a signed rental agreement with advance payment will secure your stay. Planning ahead ensures you get the home and week you love while enjoying the trusted traditions that have made Joe Lamb Jr. & Associates a leader in Outer Banks vacation rentals since 1968.
